Celebrate Indigenous Peoples Day with a meal prepared from Native-sourced recipes and ingredients, free t-shirts, stickers, and an opportunity for activism! Come learn about the importance of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples in the struggle for human rights and the well-being of the Earth! Renowned author and speaker, Walter Echo-Hawk, President of the Pawnee Nation, will speak virtually about the Declaration and the current Indigenous rights movement.

Colorado Law students will lead interactive discussion about the Declaration's provisions and there will be an opportunity to create art for advocacy to be shared on social media! Dinner will be provided from Tocabe: An American Indian Eatery. All are welcome! Register: <https://forms.gle/xkFGgUZajePFYysD7>

and Indigenous Studies
